INTRODUCTION:

It was not intended by me to return to this post as editor of the club, but because of other pressing activities experienced by Mr. Paul Petch, your immediate past editor, he, along with your executive have asked me to fill in as editor for the rest of the club's fiscal year.

This pleases me that the club has asked me back after a duration of just over a year, in which time I got married and moved twice.

Now that I am settled once again I look forward to serving you as I did in the past & hope that the quality of the bulletin is maintained to the degree it has been by all my predecessors.

LAST MEETING: FEB. 27, 1968 = 94

The guest speaker for last meeting was Mr. Ricky Morse who is the Regional Director for Ontario for the C.N.V.C.A. and a member of many clubs in the area.

His subject "Good Fellowship in Numismatics" couldn't have come to this club at a better time. As everyone knows, all clubs and Numismatic institutions have been going through a period of stagnation over the past two years, a sort of "numismatic winter", but now that the speculators and hoarders have been reduced tremendously, due to the increased production of coin by the mint, a fresh numismatic breeze is bring out the true collector into what we hope is the "Spring" of the hobby.

Mr. Morse outlined that a club will not function smoothly if it does not have the co-operation of the members as well as the executive. He also stated that every club must have workers, a flexible membership, a certain amount of public interest which can be obtained through advertising or the club bulletin to interest non members in joining the club and dealers which will help draw in the public, especially at coin shows and aids the club's treasury.

His final advice was to use the club as a stepping stone to make friends, increase your knowledge of Numismatics and build up your own satisfaction and loyalty towards your club. It is on this note that is based the above caption.

On behalf of the club, many thanks to Mr. Morse for coming out.
